

SCULPTURE at SCENIC WORLD

MEDIA RELEASE

TUESDAY 10 January 2017

Sculpture at Scenic World offers enchanting overnight stays in the Blue Mountains

Sculpture at Scenic World has partnered with a selection of the best hotels in the Blue Mountains to provide visitors with a range of Autumn art escapes.

Now in its sixth year, Australia's most unique showcase of contemporary installation and sculpture allows visitors to explore the natural world whilst immersing themselves in world-class art.

Sculpture at Scenic World Exhibition Manager, Justin Morrissey, believes that the Autumn art escape packages are the ideal way for families and couples to escape to the mountains and enjoy a mini holiday.

"The promise of a break that mixes a choice of tailored accommodation packages, inspiring sculpture, an amazing location and a public program that offers something for everyone is enticing for art lovers, enthusiasts and families alike," Justin said.

Six of the Blue Mountain's best hotels, including the iconic Hydro Majestic Hotel, have joined with Sculpture at Scenic World to offer exclusive overnight packages. These packages include an Ultimate Sculpture Pass to Scenic World, breakfast, high tea, parking, free Wi-Fi and more.

General Manager of the Escarpment Group, Ralf Bruegger, is looking forward to welcoming guests to one of their four Blue Mountains luxury properties. "An overnight stay allows visitors to indulge in a true Autumn art escape and to fully discover the natural beauty of the Blue Mountains and the distinctive charms of its surrounding villages."

Accommodation packages start from $249 for two people and are available now. For more information or to learn more about Sculpture at Scenic World, visit <http://www.sculptureatscenicworld.com.au/visit/where-to-stay/>

- ENDS -

CONTACT • Scenic World – Publicity and Content Producer – Matt Sullivan
matts@scenicworld.com.au or +61 [02] 4780 0200

